

CANDIDATES FOR THE ROLE OF DEPUTY CHAIR

Isobel Why

I would like to express my interest in being elected again as Deputy Chair. I feel that, because of my previous experience within the role, I still have a lot to offer the association. I am aware I am within my last two years of service, and I would like to spend that being more useful, and involved in training.

Mark Payne CPFA FMAAT Tech IRRV

I was appointed as an Independent Custody Visitor in 2008, and more recently have served as a deputy chair. I was lucky enough to be reappointed as an ICV for a fourth term in 2017. Having undertaken well in excess of 100 visits I have accrued considerable experience and seen many changes which have benefitted the force, OPCC and detainees. I remain passionate about the scheme in Dorset and feel I still have plenty to offer, particularly as I move into the last 18 months of my final term. I am keen to finish my time as an ICV leaving a scheme which is considerably better than the scheme which I joined nearly 10 years ago.

Natalie Hill

I feel, at this time, that I would not have enough time to put my heart into the chair position. However, it is something that I may consider in the future, perhaps with a few more years under my belt as an ICV. This being said, I would be more than happy to put myself forward as a potential deputy chair.

I understand that others may also be interested and the panel shall need to be confident in me taking on the role, but I do think I can bring something to the table.

There are aspects of the role that I know I can not only do well, but also enjoy. For example, I was hoping to attend the University open day but couldn't secure a day off unfortunately. I enjoy engagement activities such as that and the open events in Poole which I have attended. I also really enjoy interviewing and have day to day experience of this from my employment.
